

Press Release

Invitation to the Autism Nutrition Research Center

You are invited to check out four special features of the new Autism Nutrition Research Center website at www.autismnrc.org:

- 1) See our Top 10 Nutrition Recommendations for ASD
- 2) Evaluate your individual nutritional status with our new Nutrition Assessment
- 3) Consider a trial of ANRC Essentials, a comprehensive vitamin/mineral supplement designed to meet the nutritional needs of children and adults with autism/Asperger's/ASD. It was created by Prof. James Adams based on an improved version used in a previous published research study, and is now available to families (special discount for online orders at www.autismnrc.org).
- 4) Learn answers to Frequently Asked Questions on nutritional supplements.

The Autism Nutrition Research Center is a non-profit dedicated to:

- Researching new dietary and nutritional supports for ASD
- Providing expert information and advice on nutritional issues.
- Producing high quality nutritional supplements and providing them heavily discounted to families.

ANRC is led by James B. Adams, Ph.D., (director of the Autism/Asperger's Research Program at Arizona State University and father of a daughter with autism), and a Nutritional/Medical Advisory Board of experts who have participated in major research studies of nutrition status and treatment in children and adults with ASD.

For more information, see www.autismnrc.org or call (623) 975-9000.

The products and/or claims made about specific products found on this website have not been evaluated by the United States Food and Drug Administration and are not intended to diagnose, cure or prevent disease. The information presented on this site is for educational purposes only and is not intended to replace advice from your physician or other health care professional or any information found on any product label or packaging. You should always consult with a qualified health care professional before starting any exercise, diet or supplement regimen.